

MODERNISM COMES TO ST. MARY'S COUNTY

Where:

Commissioners Meeting Room
Chesapeake Building
41770 Baldrige St.,
Leonardtown

When:

October 17th
6pm-7:30pm

Featured Speaker:
John Cook

Please Join Us!

This presentation will discuss the dramatic changes in St. Mary's County in 1942 when the U.S. government altered the future of the fertile land to build the Patuxent Naval Air Test Center and the adjoining town of Lexington Park. As fate would have it, some modernist architectural movement founders were awarded the contract to design and build the town of Lexington Park known as the "Flattops." Please join us to learn how modernist planning ideas were brought to the United States and the early business growth that created the County we know today.

Live on Channel 95
and
Streaming on YouTube

Hosted by the Historic Preservation Commission